CONFERENCE DESCRIPTION

There is explosive growth taking place in diagnosis and treatment of many illnesses encountered in general medical practice. The purpose of this conference is to distill the latest information in a manner that can be applied to clinical practice. Participants will have ample time to discuss topics with individual faculty members. Learning methods will include didactic lectures and Q & A panel discussions.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the end of this conference, participants should be better able to:

- Recognize the amount of radiation involved in any ordered study
- Educate coaches, parents, and trainers about current return to play guidelines
- Name the two most common bezoars
- Name two modalities other than sunlight that can supplement Vitamin D deficiency
- Identify three models of CME education
- Name two common cancers associated with Chernobyl fallout
- Discuss general dental preventative care for your patient population
- Understand pervasiveness of gluten in the general diet
- Recognize the benefit of MRI-guided focused ultrasound ablation
- Propose a reasonable approach to patient interaction with alcoholic beverages
- Understand the urgent need to refer to cardiology upon early onset of MI symptoms

TARGET AUDIENCE

This conference is intended for primary care physicians, internists, pediatricians, surgeons, radiologists, RN's, residents, students, physical therapists and office staff.

ACCREDITATION

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint sponsorship of the Chicago Medical Society and the Ukrainian Medical Association of North America. The Chicago Medical Society is accredited by ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians. The Chicago Medical Society designates this educational activity for a maximum of 10 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credits commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

EDUCATIONAL GRANT/COMMERCIAL SUPPORT

This activity has not requested or received any support or funding from commercial interests. This includes, but is not limited to pharmaceutical companies and medical device manufacturers.
